Hide description... The Chaos Messages: 4: Thu Oct 01, 2015 5:09am Post Chaos » Thu 01, 2015 5:21am I bought Agriculture Simulator 15 from Steam. I played for about 38 hours, however every time I play, it takes a few tries to turn it on. When it doesn't turn on it gives me an error message saying the GIANTS engine 6.0.2 has stopped working and now I hit the limit it seems and I just get the error message non-stop and the game won't turn on. I haven't had any problems playing the game so far and it's never kicked me or crashed mid-game, it's just a bloody running sequence won't run it so I can play. I don't know if it's different for a couple users or if you guys are only working with a retail version, but I'm at the end of my rope now since I've looked at every forum about this problem known to the person without any real fix to it. I'll send you my error log as well, but as far as I can see there are no problems since it's super short. Also, below I'll show you what I did to save time. -Tried overwork -Tried driver updates -Tried to tinker with game.xml-Tried forums Also I'm on Windows 8.1 64bit using AMD Radeon for graphics. Хаос Сообщения: 4 Присоединился: Чт Oct 01, 2015 5:09am Post Chaos Thurs 01, 2015 7:26pm Yes, I've tried all these things, and yes the steam version is always updated as it says in the link you posted. I got a new version of the holland loader package from a couple, so I tried to install without fashion and I still got the error message. I even tried to patch it up with versions, so far nothing. I would like to give you a log.txt full of bugs, however, there is nothing wrong with the current one, but it still won't run the game. That's what happens, I click to play in the steam library (or shortcut I usually use) my screen goes black for a split second and then my desktop comes back with an error message. I've tried other things too, like running it in admin mode or running in Windows 7 mode, but still nothing, and putting down my settings there's the full lowest. And before you ask, yes my computer is more than capable of managing this game, I've already got it discovered with compatibility for Agriculture Simulator 15, and it has to run perfectly smoothly, I mean, when I actually get to play some miracle, the game is playing flawlessly. I just can't run it now. Last edited by Chaos on Fri October 02, 2015 at 12:21am, edited 1 times in total. The Chaos Messages: 4:01:025 Pm 01, 2015 5:09am Post Chaos » 02 Oct 2015 2:02am I think I actually fixed the problem, that's how I did it. go to Agriculture Simulator 15 in the steam library, right click on it and then go to the local file tab and then click to view the local files and then go to view the local files and then go to the x64 file. Click the right button on FarmSimulator2015Game Application and go to the properties, then click on the compatibility tab and check run this program as an administrator, and it should work when you turn on the game. I don't know if this is an actual fix for everyone, but so far it works for me. If it fails me later I'll come back to say so, but so far I'm getting no more bugs.
